ALPHA CHI OMEGA INSTALLS BETA THETA CHAPTER

MANY ALUMNAE HERE; INITIATE NEW MEMBERS

Forty-third Chapter Installed On Campus; Fraternity Founded in 1865

Beta Theta, the fifty-third chapter of Alpha Chi Omega fraternity, which was founded at Depauw University, Greencastle, Indiana, in 1865, was installed on the Lawrence campus yesterday when 21 actives and pledges of Alpha Gamma Phi local sorority were formally initiated. National Alpha Chi Omega officers, who were here for the installation, are Mrs. Gilbert Van Aken, Syracuse, N. Y., Grand President; Mildred Blackledge, Indianapolis, National Secretary; and Mrs. Clark Uncapher, Chicago, Central Province President.

The entire Alpha Gamma Phi group was pledged last Wednesday evening and the initiation service was held yesterday. The following were initiated: Helen Baivier, Kiel, and Cecilia Bonini, Appleton, both '30; Clara Bunde, Chicago; Helen Kavel, Sheboygan, Lucille Kranhold, Appleton; Ruth Lewis, Fond du Lac, all '31. Francis Parker, Janesville, Bernice Knospe, Algoma; Maxine Fraser, Appleton; Elizabeth Hayden, Hubbell, Mich.; '32; Dorothy Brandt, Annette Heller, Dorothy Rowlinson, Emogene Perschbacher, Appleton; Mary Bottomley, Burlington, and Marjorie Fryckberg, Port Washington, '33. Alumnae initiated are: Ruth Parkinson, '29, Algoma; Dorothy Couvelier, '23, Minneapolis; Mrs. Griffiths, Menominee, Mich.; Mrs. Paul Koenig, New York, and Norma Burns, '28, Appleton.

The following guests were in Appleton for the installation services: Bernice Phelps, Greencastle, Indiana; Aranelle Jackson, Theodora Mitchell, and Ruth Orndoff, Northwestern University, Evanston; Bess Bear, University of Illinois, Urbana; Elizabeth Rowell, Elizabeth Phinney, and Elinor Cheenerwick, University of Wisconsin, Madison; Lucille Stitt, Dorothy Klunder, James Millikin University; Kathryn Zocher, Harriet Dresser, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.; Marjorie Sleeper, ex-'31, former pledge of Alpha Gamma Phi, University of Indiana; Jane Hall, Elsie Glickson, and Kathryn Minchman, Butler University; Mrs. Allen Valentine, Chicago alumni chapter, and Gertrude Brown, Indianapolis, Indiana.

A Cappella Choir To Sing At Vespers Sunday

The first public appearance of the A Cappella Choir is to comprise the program for the vesper program Sunday at 4:30 o'clock at the Methodist church. The choir consists of 50 voices and is under the direction of Carl J. Waterman.

The following program will be presented on Sunday:

"Hymn to the Trinity", by Gretcheninoff; "Send Forth Thy Spirit", Schuelky; two negro spirituals by Burleigh; "Deep River" and "Were You There"; "A Joyous Christmas Song", Gevaret; "Carol of Russian Children", Gaul; "Beautiful Savior", Christiansen; "O, Can Ye Sew Cushions", Bantork; "My Love Dwelt in a Northern Land", Elgar; and "When Alan-a-Dale", Pearsal. Two tenor solos, "Total Eclipse", Handel, and "Il Bolen", Verdi will be sung by David Scoular.

English Club

English club will meet at 4:30 o'clock, Friday afternoon at Hamar house. Elizabeth Meating, '30, will read a paper.

Carroll Ekes Out 23-22 Win Over Lawrence In Great Battle

Ask National Support For Lawrence Paper Institute

Director and Trustee Speak At
New York Convention —
Make Plea For Aid

"The Institute of Paper Chemistry at Lawrence college will answer the greatest need of the pulp and paper industry—technically trained men," declared Ernest Mahler, a vice president of the Kimberly Clark corporation and president of the board of trustees of the newly opened graduate school at Lawrence college. Mr. Mahler addressed this statement Thursday morning to the members of the American Paper and Pulp association in convention this week at New York City. Mr. Mahler, who is also a member of the Lawrence college board of trustees, has long been recognized as one of the leading experts in the pulp and paper industry. It is largely the result of his efforts that the Institute of Paper Chemistry was organized and established at Lawrence college.

"Capital is too plentiful in this country to be the major factor in industry," Mr. Mahler stated. "Scientific management is the main factor that has replaced it in the successful organization of today. Our industry has passed from the rule of thumb to the rule of reason, and only if we acknowledge this fact will we win the battle for existence that our industry finds itself engaged in at present. Correcting trade conditions is only a temporary expediency; it is like taking patent medicine when a surgical operation is necessary. What we need is more and better trained men right now, and many more in years to come."

Sketches History

Mr. Mahler described the way in which the Institute of Paper Chemistry at Lawrence college came to be organized in response to the great need for technically trained men. "Recognizing this great need," he pointed out, "Wisconsin far-seeing paper and pulp manufacturers have created and endowed this Institute of Paper Chemistry with the hopes and expectations that all other manufacturers in the United States will lend this Institute of higher learning their moral and financial support."

Attention of the convention assembly of paper manufacturers was called to the fact that the Lawrence Institute is the only one of its kind in the U. S. According to Mr. Mahler, "Several colleges and universities have made attempts in the last ten years to teach special phases of chemistry and engineering applicable to our business, but, as far as I know, none of them succeeded to a point where they have turned out a specialist who can go out into industry and create the confidence of his employer so that he can be trusted with the technical problems that arise."

Concludes With Plea

A plea for national support concluded Mr. Mahler's address. "Education and research work are very expensive to produce, and therefore, I plead with you not to further decentralize your efforts by establishing separate laboratories for individual branches of the industry, or fellowships in educational institutions not related to our industry, but to centralize and concentrate all these endeavors in the Institute of Paper Chemistry. More talent and a paper and pulp conscious student body will produce quicker and more permanent results for you than individual efforts too widespread."

"The ultimate effectiveness of the Institute will be determined entirely by the national support it receives. Considering the absolute necessity of this Institute, and in order to put it on a permanent basis, the amount involved for each mill is negligible. Don't look at it as a contribution to a charitable organization, but as an investment for the perpetuation of your business, which means—our industry."

Dr. Kress' Tuesday Speech

A plea that the paper industry treat the Institute of Paper Chemistry at Lawrence college as a national undertaking on behalf of industry, was made by Dr. Otto Kress, technical director of the Institute, in an address delivered before the Technical Association Pulp and Paper Industries in convention at New York Tuesday morning.

Lists Advantages

Dr. Kress outlined to the experts in today's convention session the growth of the paper Institute; the excellent advantages accruing from its affiliation with Lawrence College and the support which has been given it by the Wisconsin paper industries. The Institute director paid a special tribute to Ernest Mahler, Lawrence trustee and president of the Institute Board of Trustees, stating that "the conception and consummation of this project is due very largely to the efforts of Mr. Mahler, vice president and general manager of the Kimberly Clark Corporation, Neenah. The Institute will try to fulfill in its work his ideals of scholarship and research," Dr. Kress stated in speaking of Mr. Mahler.

A great need for a special training school for paper chemists prompted the organization of the Institute, Dr. Kress pointed out. "We realize that (Continued on Page 4)

FOUR SENIOR GIRLS HONORED AT BANQUET

"Best Loved" Girls Presented
At Traditional Colonial
Dinner Wednesday

An inspiring Lawrence College tradition was climaxed Wednesday evening in the Crystal room of the Conway hotel, when the four best loved girls of the senior class were presented at the formal Colonial banquet.

The four honored girls are:

Helen Bergman, Milwaukee
Gertrude Carbaugh, Elgin, Ill.
Helen Jones, Menasha
Eleanor Lea, Elgin, Ill.

Selection was made from a total vote of the women of the campus in convocation Monday morning. The affair is sponsored each year by Y.W.C.A. Cecelia Werner, '31, was general chairman of this year's banquet.

More than 200 girls were present when the four girls entered the banquet room, dressed as George and Martha Washington, and James and Dolly Madison. Miss Ellen Tutton, personnel director of the college, as toastmistress, offered a toast for each of the four chosen girls. Cecelia Werner offered a toast for the four as a group.

The affair was formal, with a colonial theme throughout. Table decorations and menu lent to the charm of the occasion. Music was furnished by a trio composed of Helen Rudin, '31, violin; Phoebe Nickel, '32, cello; and Katherine Uglov, '32, piano.

College Speakers Compete In Contest Yesterday

Three Lawrence college public speaking artists competed for state championship honors in the oratory and extemporary speech contests held yesterday at Ripon college.

Edwin West, '32, who was chosen to represent the school in oratory, delivered his oration entitled "Lincoln's Tolerance; A Present Need." Dan Hopkinson, '31, and Irvin Marquardt, '30, were the Lawrence representatives in the extemporary speech division of the contest.

West's oration on Lincoln was written when West was a student in Menominee high school, Menominee, Michigan. With it he won first place in the Michigan state high school contest in 1927.

In the extemporary contest each speaker is given a list of subjects, of which he may pick one. He is then given 45 minutes in which to prepare his talk without reference to any printed material.

Gull Banded By Wilson Found In Minnesota

H. C. Wilson, assistant curator of the Science Hall Museum, has received notice that one of the sea gulls which he had banded has been found at the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Wilson spent seven years banding herring gulls on a small group of islands in northern Green Bay. His girls have been found as far north as Hudson Bay, as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, and in practically every state along the Atlantic Coast. The bird found by the University of Minnesota is the first one to have been caught west of the Mississippi River.

A Few Sidelights

When 1500 spectators jammed the Carroll gym to the rafters it was the second time this week the Vikings have played to almost capacity crowds. Approximately 1400 saw Lawrence trim Ripon at Appleton Monday night, and that was the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball contest in Appleton.

Any number of things might have happened to change the outcome of the game at Waukesha. Both Biggers and Schneller sent the ball through the hoop only to have the referee nullify the try because the Vikes were running with the ball. Had one of these escaped Allison's critical eye.....

Coach Denney went through his usual gyrations on the bench, and he had a logical kick coming. VanderMuelen, the Pioneers' center who was having a difficult time dodging Schneller, consistently took a two-step pivot before trying his famous one handed shot. He dropped two of them.

An interesting bit of info.....Lawrence scored the same number of points against the Pioneers as the University of Wisconsin, 22. And Hinckley, the Pioneer forward, made three field goals and a free throw on Chmielewski, the Badger star and three field goals on Paul Fischl!

It was almost a "Dad's Day" affair for the Vikings. Biggers' and Rasmussen's dads dropped in for the affair, and the manager received help from his father in the dressing rooms before the game. Scores of alumni and former Lawrence students were present.

Carroll came out on the floor before the opening whistle confident to the cocky extreme. VanderMuelen decided two hands wouldn't do him any good, so he made use of his big right paw to juggle the pit around.

The Vikes scarce had time to catch a breath after the battle. The final gun went off at 9:10 and the entire squad was on the Soo line train at the Waukesha depot at 9:21.

Seven Are Initiated By Language Club

Two Faculty Members, Five Students Honored By Sigma Alpha Iota

Two faculty members and five students were initiated into Phi Sigma Iota, national honorary romance language fraternity, at a meeting of that society held Wednesday evening at Hamar house. Miss Josephine Hardy, instructor in Spanish and French, and Miss Helen Goodrich, instructor in French, are the new faculty members. The newly initiated student members are: Mary DeJong, special student, Stanley Norton, Elizabeth Meating, Francis Proctor, all '30; and Ruth Lewis, '31.

Eligibility to Phi Sigma Iota is based on high standards of work in advanced courses of French, Spanish, or Italian.

VIKINGS' FIGHT ALMOST UPSETS PIONEER FIVE

Denneymen Lose Chance Of Tie
For State Title By One
Point Margin

By Jack Willem

Battling from the opening whistle to the final gun, the rejuvenated Lawrence basketball team dropped a narrow decision to the Carroll Pioneers at Waukesha Wednesday night, 23 to 22. The game was played before the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball contest in Waukesha, 1500 spectators filling the Pioneer gym to capacity.

The Vikings, carrying the fight to their opponents, rolled up a small lead in the opening minutes of play and held a 13 to 10 advantage at the half-way gun. Carroll, fighting gamely, retaliated in the second half and jumped into the lead early in the final period but at no time held more than a two point lead on the Denneymen.

Battle of Centers

The game early became a bitter duel between the rival centers, Schneller and VanderMuelen. The latter, who played a big part in Carroll's 39 to 21 win over the Vikes a month ago at Appleton, was outplayed and outgeneraled by the husky Viking pivot. Schneller, whose four baskets and one free throw gave him high game scoring honors, held the lanky Carroll pivot to three field goals and played a whirlwind game under the backboards. His two field goals and free throw in the initial half were instrumental in the Vikings' first half drive.

Besides taking on the aspect of an individual duel between the centers, the game was a tight defensive battle all the way. Paul Fischl, pairing with acting Capt. Pierce at a guard post, was assigned the duty of holding Don Hinckley, the other half of the Hinckley-VanderMuelen combination, to a scoring minimum. The stocky Viking guard played a great defensive game, two of Hinckley's three field goals coming from out in open territory. The other came on a brilliant exhibition of dribbling which brought the Pioneer ace a sensational one hand basket.

Vikings Grab Lead

Lawrence jumped off to a 5 to 0 lead after the opening whistle on Schneller's pot shot and free throws by Rasmussen and Fischl. Carroll retaliated slowly, but Bigger's basket and points via the free throw route kept Lawrence in a substantial lead for the greater part of the half. Carroll, spreading its scoring equally, whittled away at the Vikes' lead and came within three points at the half.

Hinckley and VanderMuelen sent the Pioneers into the lead at the start of the second half, although a pair of baskets by Schneller and a long try by Pierce kept the Vikes in the running. With two minutes to go Carroll enjoyed a 22 to 20 lead, but Pierce fouled Gluck on a bit of fast guarding and the Pioneer forward sank the resulting free throw to give Carroll its margin of victory. Pierce moved the draperies with a beautiful shot with 35 seconds remaining, and in the waning seconds the Vikes tried desperately to score. Just before the final gun Fischl attempted a long shot from the center of the floor but the ball rolled away and the game was over.

CLASS LINES IN EDUCATION

The effect of education in breaking down class distinction has been shown in a recent survey of the enrollment personnel at the University of Wisconsin. The report reveals that freshmen come from homes representing 156 occupations. One of every 10 students in the first year class comes from the farm, one of every four from the home of a tradesman, and one of every seven is the child of a worker in manufacturing or mechanical industries.

There are among the freshmen more children of carpenters, grocers, and mechanics than of bankers; more children of unskilled laborers than of manufacturers; more children of farmers than of a combined total of bankers and brokers, physicians and surgeons, lawyers and manufacturers.

The report shows clearly that a college or university education is not limited to members of the wealthy classes as it was at one time. It reveals that students have discovered a solution to the financial problems involved in a college education. Finally, it shows that class lines are being disregarded, and that social barriers are becoming extinct in the institutions of higher learning in this country. It is a favorable trend.

THE SCORNER'S SEAT

The college student is often guilty of scorning those who did not have the opportunity of a college education. One of the most common criticisms of the American college is that it produces snobs and white-collar men who are afraid to dirty their hands with menial labor after graduation. Perhaps this attitude on the part of the college student is due to the fact that college has so long been held before us as a great opportunity—a sure thing for success.

The laborer, after all, is an artist in his own field. The kind of work he does should not be the criterion by which one judges his success, rather the amount and character of the work. There need be no embarrassment connected with honest endeavor. The college student who washes dishes for his living is equal in every way to the idle lounge in the well-appointed fraternity home.

Yet how often the college student evaluates success in Dunn and Bradstreet ratings, Who's Who, and the social register, forgetting that a man's pleasure in his work means more than a dollar and cents rating. It would be well if the college student judged others by the joy of life rather than by the pocket book.

Enthusiastic Audience Demands Twenty-Two Curtain Calls From Giannini Tuesday

By Helen Hector

Privileges, such as that of hearing an artist of the caliber of Dusolina Giannini, dramatic soprano, are not afforded Appleton music lovers except on rare occasions, of which the concert on Tuesday was one. Singing a most charming program, in a superbly artistic and musicianly style, she won her audience immediately, and proved her power of moving the hearer to smile and tears.

Giannini possesses a vocal organ, of which the rich, full, smooth quality is rivalled only by her power over it, and by her musical interpretation. Swelling to the heights of dramatic power, or fading to the faintest possible reverberation, it ever retained the smoothness and clarity of a perfectly trained tone column. The accuracy of her intonation was such as to be the envy of many a concert singer, and to please the most fastidious ear.

That the artist afforded her audience the finest pleasure, is shown by the insistence of the applause which could not be quelled by mere reappearances of the singer. She was brought back for 22 curtain calls, and sang as many as eight encores before she was permitted to conclude her program. Throughout her concert the charm of her personality was brought out in the gracious manner in which she responded to the appreciation of her hearers, as well as in the perfectly natural way in which she sang. Hers was an expression from within, not a mere external display of a lovely voice. Her enunciation was so distinct that none could fail to understand the meaning of her songs, and her music was so perfect that none could fail to understand and appreciate its beauty.

heard in an Appleton concert. Playing the entire program without score, she proved herself an unsurpassable artist in the field of accompanying. She was sympathetic and musicianly, and retained her complete understanding of the soloist during the entire difficult program of 15 numbers and eight encores.

The encores which Miss Giannini sang, were: "Mermaid's Song," by Haydn; "Matinatto," by Leoncavallo; "Love Has Eyes," by Bishop; "O sole mio," Italian Folk Song; "Joy," by Harvey Gaul; and "La Paloma," Mexican Folk Song; with repeat numbers from her program, "When I Love You," by Martin Cole, and "In Mezzo al Mar," Italian Folk Song.

Soprano and Accompanist Guests At Sorority Recital

Dusolina Giannini, and her accompanist Molly Bernstein, were guests of honor at a reception given by Xi chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional musical fraternity, at Russell Sage hall, Monday evening. Members of the Conservatory faculty, patronesses and alumnae members of the chapter and representatives of the musical sororities were guests. Dr. and Mrs. Carl J. Waterman, and Emma Lou Williams attended Miss Giannini and Miss Bernstein in the receiving line.

VOIGT'S HUSTLER

No. 1 Feb. 21 Vol. 1

Editor of Lawrentian over at the Lawrentian office says everybody thinks he knows how to run a newspaper, and we're no exception to that rule.

But we can't afford a newspaper of our own. Besides, we're too busy with the drug business.

So we have arranged for this little corner in the Lawrentian and we're going to devote it to the news of our business.

We may not talk about drugs all the time. Maybe some of you college folks may get your names into our "newspaper" occasionally.

Also, we may decide to write poetry or high brow editorials.

But we'll at least try to be interesting and we hope you'll watch for the Hustler each week.

There are lots of things around our place of business that we'd like to tell you about from time to time. New merchandise arriving. New ideas. Comments from customers. Things that we believe would interest you a lot more than if we tried to tell you all the time about what a wonderful establishment we have here.

In other words, we want to make this space of some service to you, and we wish you'd advise us from week to week — criticize or commend, as you think we deserve. We'll need your help and "moral support."

And while we're getting the Hustler ready each week, just remember that we're also going to give you the best service we know how to deliver.

That's the big aim of this institution, always.

Just now the news came hot over the wire that Carroll sneaked out a 23-22 win. What a game that must have been. It seems a tragedy to be so near and yet so far from a win which would have been a joy forever, but to fight out as close a game as that with the famous Carroll outfit is nothing to be taken lightly.

Which all goes to show that the boys are ending up the season with a bang. Next Tuesday Marquette, and with things going as they are now that should be a noble battle also. The last home game, and it will be a worthy close to the home season.

No doubt you have all heard that Ripon played up here last Monday night. Additional comment on the game is probably unnecessary at this late date, but Ripon had little to say even immediately after the game. A few of the Riponites mumbled something about there being another game down there, but that's all right too. We'll see what they have to say after that's over.

After much difficulty in rounding up judges, teams, and stop watches, the inter-fraternity swimming meet was finally run off fairly successfully. There were no drownings and none of the officials fell in. All of the stop watches worked with some degree of accuracy, and all of the fraternities expect one entered a team. All those entered also finished, although it looked doubtful for one team for a while. All in all, it was a howling success — with the howling coming from all sides at once.

At last the fraternities managed to send one man to the hospital as a result of their basketball games. Of course it's still fairly early in the season, and it is expected that there will be more added to the list of wounded as time goes on and the boys lose what civilized instincts they have left.

As those who saw the wrestling last Monday will testify, Razz has turned out quite a crew of grapplers. That's a great sport for those who aren't particular about what happens to them. It's interesting to watch the boys go back to the primitive instincts of general mauling and murder. Jake Hovde hasn't been mad for 14 years, but as soon as he got on the mat all his good disposition disappeared — which made it kind of tough on his opponent.

The supremacy race is now half over — or will be as soon as bowling and basketball are completed — and it's still anybody's cup. Already we're looking forward to the last sport — baseball. Just for the sake of a little excitement, it would be nice to have the supremacy cup depend on baseball. There's nothing like a few ball bats flying through the air to furnish entertainment.

There seems to be a good deal of attention devoted to combat of one kind or another in this column. It must be the weather, or under orders week, that has brought on all this blood-thirsty spirit.

Ripon	0	4

Carroll, by virtue of their triumph over Lawrence at Waukesha Wednesday night, clinched first place in the Big Four. Lawrence retained second place despite their defeat, while Beloit is in third position. Ripon is holding down the cellar berth.

Change Date Of Ripon-Vike Game To Feb. 28

According to an announcement by Coach A. C. Denney the Lawrence-Ripon game which was originally scheduled for March 1 has been set ahead to Friday, February 28.

The Pioneers have turned back the veteran Beloit team twice, the Vikings twice, and the Red Devils once. Coach Kenney's men still have to play one conference game with Ripon.

Lawrence has taken in Beloit and Ripon, but has dropped both their meetings with Carroll, giving them a 500 percentage. The Denney men still have contests with Ripon and Beloit.

Coach Boise Pottshoff has not been so fortunate when it has come to winning league games. The Riponites have yet to break into the win column, although they have several Midwest games to their credit.

Through a misunderstanding, it was reported that the game with Ripon last Monday night counted both in the Midwest loop and the Big Four, but a checkup has revealed that the contest counted only in the smaller group. This leaves Lawrence in a tie with Knox for third place in the Midwest race.

Lawrence Golfers Arrange Spring Tour; Big Four Tourney Will Be Held Here

Golfing plans go merrily forward as the sun melts the snow, and at the present time Lawrence bids fair to become one of the most enthusiastic golfing schools in this section of the northwest. At the weekly meeting of the Golf club, plans were drawn up which call for an extended tour of Lawrence golf luminaries during the spring recess. The trip calls for matches with Wabash, the U. of Indiana, Purdue, the U. of Wisconsin, and Creighton—a six match session that is enough to test the calibre of the best wielders of midirons in the state. Later in the spring, the Buttes des Morts links will be the scene of a Big Four conference struggle to decide the champion for the year, and the Vike turf removers will have to be in top notch form for this event, if they expect to come home with low net.

After the business meeting Tuesday, indoor golf was played, Paul Hackbert and Billie Lorfeld again walking off with the honors. Jim McKenney was runner-up in the men's division, but Hackbert's consistent work with his putter was the deciding factor in the struggle. "Sis" Bohr took second money for the co-eds.

The pictures for the Ariel will be taken next Wednesday at 1 o'clock according to announcement today.

Four Games On Tap For Fraternity Fives

May Result In Triple Tie; Leading Sig Eps Meet Strong Theta Phi Team

Games Saturday
Sig Eps vs. Theta Phi
Delta Sigs vs. D. I.'s
Phi Taus vs. Betas.
Psi Chis open date.

Prospects for a triple tie for first place in the interfraternity basketball tournament are evident, considering the contests scheduled for Saturday afternoon at the new Alexander gymnasium. All games scheduled for this week-end will have a decidedly important bearing on the titular race.

Carrying the bulk of the interest in the games Saturday afternoon, is the Sig Ep-Theta Phi affray. The Sig Eps are at present leading the race with three wins and no losses, while the Theta Phis are tied with the Phi Taus for second place, with two wins and one defeat. A victory for the Theta Phis would place them in a tie with the present leaders for the top berth, and such an outcome is not looked upon as an impossibility. A victory for the Sig Eps, however, would virtually cinch the title for them.

Not far behind in importance is the Phi Tau-Beta game. The defending champions have registered two victories and one defeat thus far this season, and the Betas have chalked up two wins and an equal number of reverses. Should the Phi Taus win Saturday, and should the Theta Phis likewise win, a triple tie will be established for the top rung of the ladder. If the Phi Taus win and the Thetas lose, last year's champions will take undisputed possession of second place. To attempt to pick the winner of the scheduled Phi Tau-Beta match would be foolhardy, for both teams are going at top speed and are playing a high-class brand of basketball.

The sixth and seventh place teams will fight it out in the third game on the afternoon's program. This contest will bring together the D. I.'s, who have one victory and two defeats, and the Delta Sigs, who have not registered a win. Whereas the

Frosh "A" Cagers Win From Ripon Yearlings

Coach Eddie Kotla's "A" frosh basketball team won its third straight victory by defeating the Ripon frosh 15 to 6 in the new Alexander gymnasium Monday night. The game was played as a preliminary to the Ripon-Lawrence varsity game.

At the end of the first half both teams were deadlocked at 5-all. In the second half, led by the sensational work of Bert Hall the Vikings were able to score repeatedly with easy pot shots. The whole frosh team played different ball in the second half, scoring 11 points to their opponents' 1.

The "A" team was composed of Rafoth, center, Roeck and Hall, forwards, Mike Gochner and Haase, guards. In the three games played the Vikings have scored 74 points to their opponents' 36.

Beta Swim Team Wins Interfraternity Race

The Betas carried off their first honors in the Greek competition for the year Wednesday afternoon when their swimming team romped in ahead of the field to carry home the championship in that sport. The Sig Eps finished with second place honors, while the D.I.'s followed next in line.

The Phi Taus, Delta Sigs, and Psi Chis crossed the line in the order named, Theta Phi being the only fraternity failing to enter a team.

The winning time made by the Beta team was 54.8 seconds for the hundred yards. The Sig Eps were clocked at 55.1 seconds, while the D.I.'s finished after an elapse of 56.3 seconds. One hundred and three points are awarded to the winners toward the supremacy cup, while each succeeding place counts seventeen points less.

D. I.'s are given the edge in this fracas, as a result of their previous showings, the Delta Sigs are determined to make a battle before they will accept defeat and be forced farther into the cellar.

Lawrence Matmen Defeat Ripon Team

All But One Match Won By Falls; Is First Ripon-Lawrence Meet

The Lawrence wrestling team indicated the trend of Tuesday's scores against Ripon teams when they took the Ripon grapplers for the proverbial ride in a meet of which the Vikings made a clean sweep in the eight divisions.

In the heavyweight class, Hovde won a fall from Amundson of Ripon in 5:14, and in the 175 pound event, Amundson of Lawrence took the measure of his opponent, Wagner, in the time of 3:58 in the second period. Captain Vincent, fighting in the 165 pound class, won from Loftus of Ripon in 2:30.

Lund, 155 pounder, won a fall from Steinman, Ripon, in the brief time of 1:54, and Schier in the 145 pound class won from Mangen in 7:22. Northrup, Lawrence, continued in the trend of the decisions as he won a fall from Smith, Ripon, in 4:19.

Engstrom, Lawrence, 125 pounder, won in the first period from Radent, Ripon, the time being 5½ minutes, and then took a second fall, in one minute. Babcock of Lawrence, 115 pounder, was awarded a 1:48 second advantage over Hauschultz, Ripon.

Cal Cooper of Appleton refereed of the matches.

Lawrence Shows Fight; Lose To Strong Carroll Team By One Point

Pioneers had 12 chances from the gift shot line and dropped but three of them. Lawrence, outscored from the field 10 to 8, connected on six out of 10 opportunities from the free throw stripe.

Carroll was content to play an easy, slow advancing game, but the Vikings' fast breaking offense forced them back on the defensive continually. Pierce and Fischl, the guards, played brilliant defensive games, while the forwards, Rummel, Biggers, and Rasmussen exhibited neat team work consistently.

The summary:

Dr. MacHarg Arranges Lincoln Exhibition

The new bulletin board of the American History Museum is devoted to pictures, maps, and etchings depicting the life of Lincoln. There are several maps, showing the location of his various homes in Indiana, Illinois, and Kentucky. The entire exhibit was arranged by Dr. J. B. MacHarg.

When he was 22 Lincoln took trips down the Mississippi and brought back pictures of the New Orleans he learned to love. There is also a map of his line of march in the Black Hawk War, and pictures of his surveying instruments.

There are copies of the Rutledge Tavern and Museum at New Salem, and a picture of the grave of Lincoln's sweetheart, Ann Rutledge.

An unusual daguerrotype shows Lincoln in a sitting position. It was taken in his early youth and is one of the very finest poses of a man. There is another unusual picture, the original of which was found by some Brooklyn house wreckers in a package of Civil War pictures.

A very beautiful picture of the Lincoln Memorial is in the collection along with one of his birthplace. The whole collection shows, in a remarkable manner, the rise of the great American, and the esteem in which he is held.

D.I.'s Near Bowling Title; Defeat Theta Phis

The D.I.'s swept the Theta Phis from the title path in three straight games Tuesday afternoon, and had to win but a single contest from the second place Phi Taus yesterday afternoon to cop first place. The leaders experienced no difficulty in downing the last place Thetas, and to prove that they were in form, hung up a new season record for three game team totals, battering 2653 kegs into the pit as compared to 2123 for the losers.

The big upsets of the day occurred when the Psi Chis ran rampant over the Sig Eps three straight games to shove the latter from third place to a fourth place rung.

Standings:

Wisconsin Artist's Work Shown Here

Water Colors By Niles Jurgen
Behnke, Oshkosh, On Display at Library

A number of water colors, which are the work of Niles Jurgen Behnke, director of the Oshkosh Public Museum, are now on exhibition in the business office of the college library.

In these pictures, the artist has depicted various scenes of nature, which attract attention not only because of their beauty, but because they are reproductions of various scenes about Wisconsin. Some of these scenes are, "Autumn Sunshine, Lake Butte des Morts," "Autumn Gold, Winnebago County," "After the Rain, Madison," "The Yellow Tree, near Baraboo, Wisconsin."

These water colors have been displayed in many parts of the country. They have been exhibited at the Chicago International Water Color show; the Corcoran Gallery, at Washington, D. C.; the Baltimore Water Color shows; the Milwaukee Art Institute; the Journal Gallery at Milwaukee; the Fine Art Gallery at Des Moines, Iowa, and the State College at Iowa.

It is expected that these pictures will be on exhibit for about a month.

Mahler, Kress Ask For Paper Institute Support

Other well-endowed and equipped universities and engineering schools are giving either partial training or a four year course, the object of which is to train men for the industry. It therefore required considerable study and thought to definitely determine whether there was a need for another institution, or whether we would only be duplicating work that is now under way and established at other reputable institutions. We arrived at the conclusion that the present institutions of learning, giving instruction in pulp and paper making to undergraduate students, are doing good work, but in our opinion there is need for an institution to train postgraduate men who have completed their preliminary chemical and engineering training at some other institution. This will bring to the Institute of Paper Chemistry a class of more mature men, whose minds have been trained by their undergraduate studies, and who should now be in a position to really do postgraduate work.

"Institute a Reality"

"The Institute is a reality," the speaker continued, "Its first session opened February 3. It has been started by the Wisconsin mills for the benefit of the industry. They have taken care of the preliminary financing. They have provided a minimum operating budget for the first five years. It never has been viewed as a local enterprise, but as an undertaking for the whole industry. No geographical restrictions have been placed on students. It is open to qualified men from all sections of the country. At present, we have two students from the east. One comes from Maine, the other from Massachusetts. Both of these men have had four years of mill experience in their home states. The Institute and the supporting mills welcome these men who come from outside Wisconsin. The Institute is established to render a necessary service to the paper industry. Its facilities are available to the whole industry. The measure of its success will not be the measure of the interest and support from the mills by which it was founded. To a degree the results will depend upon the use made of the Institute by the industry. Its success will be measured by the interest and support coming from the industry as a whole. A minimum budget has been provided. The Institute can function on that budget, but it would be senseless to think that it would reach its highest stages of effectiveness on the funds already provided. Increased support will provide added facilities. The more money it has, the more service it can render. If the paper industry will treat the Institute of Paper Chemistry as a national undertaking on behalf of the industry, and accord it the same united co-operation and interested support the Wisconsin mills have given it, there can be no question of the result."

Bring Your Home to the Campus!

Sons and daughters at college can keep home ties intact and can keep in close personal touch with the folks back home, - - by telephone.

Many students set aside a certain hour of a certain day each week to call Mother and Dad. An arrangement of this kind will prove a source of true satisfaction to you, too.

The telephone offers a convenient, inexpensive way for you to remain in the family circle, and gives you a certain vigor that seems to lighten your scholastic burden.
